TALISMAN '64

Maureen,
I don't really know you too well
but good luck in 10th
anyway Mike

Maureen —
It's hard to believe that our freshman year is over. It seems like it just started. It seems strange to be ending a school year without all
the kids at Sacred Heart.
I sure hope that I get you in all my classes in 10th! Have fun this summer — I'll see you when we're sophs —

Carolyn

Maureen —
I am glad that I made your acquaintance because I found you to be a very interesting and enjoyable person just by talking to you. I hope that in the future we may have others talks at Trinity's. But anyway, good luck in your sophomore year
of '65. Signed,
Rick Ricklund

FOREWORD

The ladder diagram says, "Page 3--Foreword," which is yearbook talk meaning someone should write a philosophical page defining the aim of a yearbook, recalling an amusing incident, and apologizing for the book's shortcomings. Such messages are, at best, boring and frequently maudlin. And so, feeling sure that the reader will find any shortcomings on his own and hoping that he will find some merits, too, we abandon him, without hint of what follows, to that vast expanse known as TALISMAN'64.

M. H.

DEDICATION

If one man has made Saratoga High the fine school that it is, that man must be Vernon E. Trimble. It is with affection and respect that we dedicate TALISMAN '64 to the man whose influence permeates every classroom; who is, in fact, Saratoga High School.

Our remembrances of Doctor Trimble will be varied: The day he taught JULIUS CAESAR in English or his reaction to pig-dissection in Biology or his reminder to tuck in a shirt in the quad. Whatever specific incidents we recall, we will always remember his concern for us, his genuine interest in all our activities, and his devotion to his faculty and students. It has been pointed out that he is the perfect combination of rational intellect and warm feeling--a combination which is apparent in everything he does.

A dedication to anyone at Saratoga is, in a sense, a dedication to Doctor Trimble, for everyone under his leadership reflects his ideals. Conversely, a dedication to Doctor Trimble is a dedication to all Saratoga High, because no other man so totally represents our school.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This year, the Saratoga High School student body has shown more unity than ever before in its short history of five years. This unity has been responsible for the many achievements of the current school year; our first varsity football championship, a bigger and better yearbook, better communications between students and student government, and numerous others. Each of these accomplishments has done its share to magnify and strengthen this unity. The credit for our unity must go to the students, for it is the students of Saratoga High School who have united in their efforts to make this year one of greatest distinction and highest achievement.

PRINCIPAL

Dr. Trimble

My best wishes to the Class of 1964! As the years of your high school career draw to a close, you undoubtedly have some pangs about leaving friends and associates whose companionship you have so long taken for granted. It is foolish to think that all of these close ties will remain strong for an indefinite time, but we do hope that some day in the future as you leaf through this book you will remember with affection your days at Saratoga High School.

Vernon E. Trimble
Principal

VICE PRINCIPAL

To the departing Class of '64, I wish to extend my best wishes for the future.

From your bewildered freshman year to the rigid correctness of the graduates' 'Mortar Board' lie four years of the most varied experiences of your educational career.

To the Class of '64, we hope that we have given you such training as to make it possible for you to aid in the creation of a happy home life, to engage in an interesting and useful occupation, and to accept the exacting responsibilities of citizenship.

Gerald J. Zappelli
Vice Principal

Mr. Zappelli

SUPERINTENDENT

Dr. Gillette

GREETINGS

THE TALISMAN of 1964 reminds Saratoga seniors of memorable happenings. It was entirely appropriate that this yearbook should record events of both academic and non-academic nature, of both small and large significance. In truth, it is the total of such events that make school life memorable--not one narrow aspect in itself.

So it is with the events facing seniors as they become ever more immersed in adult life. The WHOLENESS of ONE'S life is more important than the separate parts. It requires considerable reflection to see the full impact of this idea, but we are confident that Saratoga students are well on the way to accepting it as an important life ingredient.

If one accepts the value of wholeness as contrasted to partness for his own life, he is probably more apt to accept this concept for his community, nation, and world. We trust that within the dynamics of this exciting world each departing senior will strive for completeness of self and nation throughout his life. Congratulations to THE TALISMAN for contributing to the remembrances of a school life that aspired to achieving true integrity.

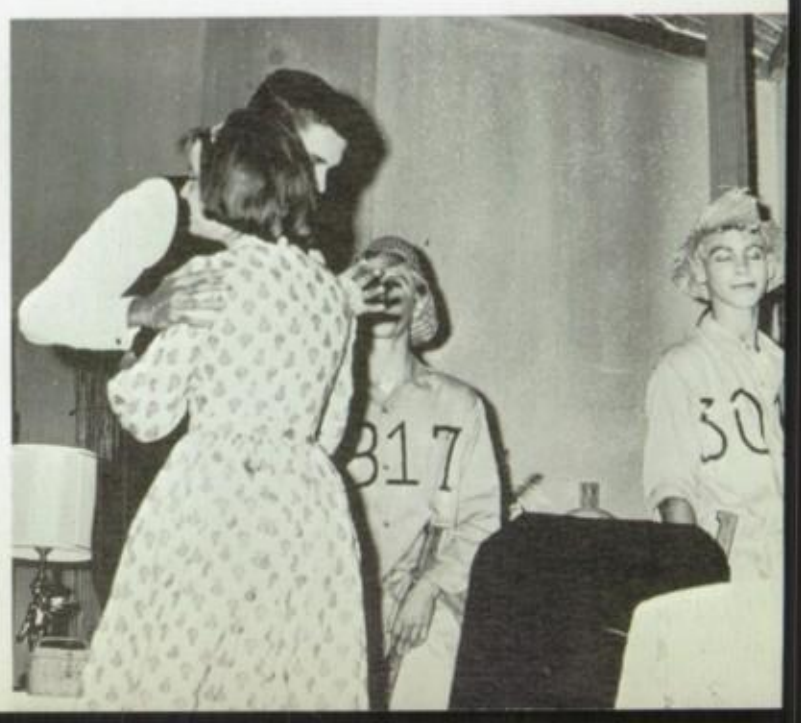
MY THREE ANGELS

MY THREE ANGELS, set in French Guiana in 1910, involves three convicts, who, by legal and other means (mostly the latter) save a declining business and assist cupid.

The junior play was enjoyable to watch and enjoyable to perform. Enlivened by some unrehearsed incidents like falling ceilings and western-style cliche fights, as well as the play's written humor, MY THREE ANGELS was a success.

Those juniors contributing to the success were Doug Stuart, Tom Holwerda, Dave Moss, Phil Pennypacker, Judy Osterman, Skippy Margolis, Laurie Oberhaus, Sue Crowell, Marsha Drake, Lyndae Lockhart, Fred Leitz, Jim Claytor, and Bill Holmes.

Also contributing to the success of the play were Mr. Alden Peterson, who directed the production, and the staff whose hours of work produced the sets, make-up, programs, and props.



YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

The Senior Play, YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU, was produced on March 6th and 7th, and in spite of its short run of two nights, was a great success, thanks to a fine cast and the superb direction of Mr. Alden Peterson.

The play depicts the fortunes and misfortunes of a family of screwballs, whose activities range from the illegal manufacture of fireworks and the writing of sex plays to xylophone playing and wrestling. The play has the usual number of secondary plots and, of course, a love story.

Rehearsals, which lasted only four weeks, were fun, furious, hilarious, and hectic. As the night of the first performance approached, all was in readiness, however, and the ever-popular play was enthusiastically received.

The comedy was performed by these talented people: Betsy Anderson, Cathy Jackson, Katie Richards, Jack Stuart, Alan Sweeney, Jim Priest, Mickey Bonasera, Mike Oberhaus, Nancy Crecelius, Tim Garrod, Richard Strobach, Jerome Rosemeyer, Bette Lindenbaum, Kirk McKenzie, Cynthia Dusel, Lynn Peterson, Dave Brown, and Tom Waters.

TALISMAN '64 owes its increased length to the four monsters above and to the exploiting of same by four brilliant members of the Yearbook Staff. The Ugly Man contest paid for forty pages and allowed the book to be expanded to a sensible size, thus fulfilling an editor's wishes--almost. The editor, however, was greedy and would not be satisfied. He wanted more pages--pages to cover with pictures of baseball and track and bermudas and such. His persistence (some call it pigheadedness) was rewarded. Here follows, at expense yet unreckoned, a Supplement...

After all this effort I deserve a cigar!

THANKS...

TALISMAN '64 is the product of a good deal of work by several people. I would particularly like to thank Bruce Richard, who spent so many weekends preparing the Sports Section and helping in innumerable ways; Bette, Betsy, Kim, and Diane for their work, especially on the Ugly Man Contest, which made possible the larger book; and photographers Jim Palik and Cliff Baggett, whose pictures cover these pages. My gratitude goes also to Marilyn Deurell, typist; Doug Stuart, Assistant Editor; Karen Porter, Business Manager; Joan Oldenkamp; Jack Stuart; Jenan Rook; Mr. Sceales, Faculty Advisor; Mr. J. R. Myers; Mrs. Porter; all those others who contributed to Talisman '64; and Mr. Roberts and Mr. Pfister for advice and moral support.
